Upon requesting or being provided an FTP account, you agree to this FTP user agreement and any agreement that supersedes it in future. You agree to access and use said account solely for the purposes intended; namely, to transfer and retrieve or otherwise gain access to documents and information stored on said account pertaining to specific assigned jobs. You agree not to associate, input or upload any virus, Trojan horse, worm, time bomb or other malicious computer programming routines that are intended to damage, interfere with, intercept or otherwise harm Capital Injection Ceramics Limited's systems, FTP accounts or service.

Any use of your FTP account for purposes otherwise than those intended is strictly prohibited. Capital Injection Ceramics Limited reserves the right to revoke any FTP privileges if it is determined that unauthorized use or abuse has occurred.

We utilize security techniques to protect confidential documents and information from unauthorized access, and we expect you to do the same. This includes documents and data that are stored electronically and protected by accepted security measures such as firewalls, access controls and encryption. You agree to safeguard any such documents and information by utilizing an FTP client that provides adequate encryption for the security of said documents and information. Capital Injection Ceramics Limited will not assume any responsibility or liability in the event you do not utilize an FTP client with adequate encryption or you otherwise do not securely safeguard any documents or information.

Capital Injection Ceramics Limited will not assume any responsibility or liability in the event you do not take adequate precautions to safeguard and protect your assigned FTP user ID and password information or in the event unauthorized access is gained to your FTP account as a result.
